

Here in Class 2, we have been rather busy since the Christmas break. Our favourite thing so far this term has definitely been our art lessons! This term our unit is painting and we have been learning to paint using the pointillism technique, To help us do this, we have been looking at the artist Georges Seurat and having a go at it ourselves.

Have a look below at some of our work and have a read about what we have learnt and enjoyed.

Pointillism is lots of dots and you can see each dot but they also blend together. You can make your own colour to use in your pointillism picture. It is really enjoyable and calming. Katie

It is lots of dots which are quite small. You have to leave gaps but they need to be very small. I liked making a whole picture using pointillism. We learnt all about Georges Seurat, who is a famous pointillism artist. Rupert

Pointillism is something an artist started a very long time ago - it is a very old way of painting. I really liked doing my own pointillism and making my own pictures with lots of dots. Sophia.

Pointillism is when you make a picture out of lots of little dots. We used paint at school but I had a go at home and used colouring pens. The colouring pens took a lot longer! Owen
